Government Law College
Estd. 1855 MUMBAI, INDIA

PROSPECTUS 2023-24

Dr. Asmita A. Vaidya
Principal, GLC, Mumbai

HISTORY AND HERITAGE

The Government Law College (GLC), established in 1855, has the distinction of being the oldest Law College in Asia, dating even prior to the University of Mumbai, and enjoys a pre-eminent reputation for excellence in the field of legal education.

Inception :

Until 1850 there was no institution of body providing formal legal education for legal officers and lawyers in this country. Sir Erskine Perry, the then Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Bombay, used to deliver lectures on law after court hours, in his personal capacity. These classes were held on a very informal basis and were attended only by a select group of legal aspirants. However, it was not till Sir Perry's departure from India in 1852, that the country felt the vacuum and thus a committee, headed was constituted under a distinguished scholar of those days Rao Sahib Juggonnath Sunkersett, C.I.E. The Committee resolved to carry forward the pioneering efforts of Sir Perry by raising resources in order to institute a Professorship of Jurisprudence in the Elphinstone Institution at Pickate Road. It was designated as 'Perry Professorship of Jurisprudence'. In 1855, Dr. R. T. Reid (LL.D Bar-at-Law, a Practitioner of Bombay) was appointed as the first Perry Professor of Jurisprudence and the Government School of Law, as it was then called, was established at the Elphinstone Institution. The very first course had not less than hundred students and this marked the beginning of a rapidly successful run for the institution. Soon the institution emerged as a pioneering leader in imparting effective training of giving a distinguished class of formally trained native judicial officers and lawyers. The surge in the strength of prospective trainees lead to the appointment of Messrs. J. F. Hore, the first Judge of the Court of Small Causes and Dr Reid as Government Professors of Law, both retaining their respective incumbent appointments.

The Law School received its affiliation with the University of Bombay (now Mumbai) in 1860 and has retained the same ever since. In 1891, the Law School shifted to the Elphinstone College as Kala Ghoda. The Classes were held in the evening, after the regular students dispersed for the day. In 1895, the Government recognised the need for a Principal and Mr. L. J. Robertson was appointed as the first Principal while the faculty strength increased to five with the appointment of three additional Professors.

Change of Name and Premises :

Though the Government School of Law was re-christened as the “Government Law School” in 1925’ it was only in 1938 that the college was converted into a full-fledged institution. The Principal then in chair, Mr. A. A. A. Fyzee, steered the college through this transformation and nursed it through its rebirth. As part of this transformation process, the Government of Bombay allocated a prime plot, west of Churchgate, on which the Government Law College building was constructed and still stands at this very location, proud; a location that every Law School in India envies due to its proximity to the Bombay High Court, to the epicentre of India’s most important commercial and corporate district and to the hub of the leading law firms of the country.

The College Today :

Government Law College or “GLC” as it is popularly known, continues to be an institution exclusively for the students of law. In addition to the old building, the college now has an annexe building, September 1988 onwards, which houses additional class rooms and reference library.

GLC, which has a rich heritage and pedigree, is the repository of erudition in the legal firmament and has had the privilege of guidance and tutelage under eminent legal luminaries such as Dr. B. R. Ambedkar, Lokmanya Tilak, Justice M. C. Chagla, Sir Motilal Setalvad (first Attorney General of India), Sir Dinshaw Mulla, Justice Y. V. Chandrachud, Mr. Nani Palkhivala and several others who have adorned benches of the Supreme Court of India and the Bombay High Court. The students who have passed out from the portals of GLC have distinguished themselves at the Bar, the Judiciary and the Academe. From these portals, have passed the likes of five Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of India, Ms. Pratibha Devisingh Patil, first lady President of India, and Mr. Lal Krishna Advani, former deputy Prime Minister of India. The College takes great pride in being the alma mater on India’s most prominent Supreme Court and High Court judges who have pronounced the greatest of judgments and legal doctrines that revolutionised the legal environment. Most of the top most Counsels and Legal Practitioners who virtually built and rule the entire paradigm of India’s legal profession have also passed through the portals of this great institution.

The College derives its strength and ethos from the highly qualified and dedicated faculty. The college has the unique and proud privilege of intimate association with prominent legal professionals of distinction as visiting faculty who regularly conduct lectures, workshops and discussions with students despite their hectic scheduled and preoccupations.

The College has celebrated its centenary in 1955 and its sesquicentennial year in 2005 and is poised to revel in its bicentennial in 2055. Having turned 160 years, GLC continues to hold a preeminent position in the field of legal education in India and is recognised as such too by the Bar Council of India. The College remains strong and resolute in these trying times of a competitive and commercialised nature of legal education by holding on to its institutional ethos and due to the strength of its rich heritage and professional character, thus fulfilling its objectives of training not just the finest of the legal practitioners but also by nurturing professionals and thinkers in every sphere of society.

In the year 2021-22, the Government Law College, Mumbai, celebrated 75 years of completion of Indian Constituent assembly and 75 years of Independence by conducting Seventy Five different academic programmes such as National Level Webinar, National Level Guest Lecture Series, National Level Quiz Competition, Awareness Programmes and publications, the link for above programmes is :-
